

Urban League gets $70,000 grant from SBC

St. Louis Business Journal - January 11, 2005

The Urban League of Metropolitan St. Louis Inc. has received a $70,000 grant from SBC Communications Inc. to fund technology training programs.

The grant was part of a $1.07 million Excelsior grant awarded by SBC to the New York based-National Urban League to launch 12 Digital Empowerment Academies, to bring technology job skills training to low-income communities through computer centers, which will provide online courses and Internet access for youth and adults.

The Urban League of Metropolitan St. Louis was one of 12 Urban League chapters around the country that will split the funds.
